

New Credit Card Payment Screens

Although the information required to process your online credit card payments will be exactly the same (credit card number and expiration date), the screens that you see will look a little different as of 07/27/04. As always, if you encounter a problem just let us know.

When you have a credit card charge, the first screen will remain unchanged:

Electronic Payment - Microsoft Internet Explorer

Summary of current charges:

Date Incurred	Description	Amount

If the U.S. Treasury Department's designated depository is closed on a scheduled payment date (including weekends and some holidays), the payment will occur the next day the depository is open.

Continue Quit

The name and address will be prefilled with your information from ECF, but this does not need to match the info on the credit card in order to process the transaction. Select your card type and enter the card number and expiration as usual. No other information is required. When you click continue, you will see a new screen:

Re-enter Email

Address to Confirm:

Press the "Make Payment" button only once. Pressing this button more than once could result in multiple transactions.

You must click the "I authorize charge" box. You may enter an email address if you would like a receipt emailed to you directly from the credit card processor - entering this info is optional. This email would be in addition to the electronic notification from ECF when your receipt is docketed. When you click make payment, you will see the normal receipt screen:

U.S. Bankruptcy Court
Southern District of California (TEST)

Thank you. Your transaction in the amount of $ 0.20 has been completed.

Please print a copy of your transaction receipt for future reference. The transaction number is 110725.
